

Isaac is Alone

Abraham:

Isaac is alone and he needs a companion;
No, not a wife from the tribes of Canaan.
Go back to my kinfolk, find a bride for Isaac,
Promise, promise me!

Servant:

Standing here by the spring of waters -
See them coming - all the daughters.
May the bride be one who offers me a drink
And serves my camels, too.

Rebekah:

There came Rebekah - a pitcher on her shoulder;
The servant asked for a drink of water.
She drew water from the spring for both the servant
And the camels, too.

Servant:

The servant asked: who is your father?
Is there room in your house to lodge there?
He gave to Rebekah rings and golden bracelets,
Thanking, blessing God.

Rebekah:

This is a story quite amazing,
God arranged a husband where the camels were grazing.
Pack the caravan and I will go to Isaac,
Oh, so willingly.

Isaac:

Someone is coming out in the distance,
Finally - the wife for my assistance.
How I love Rebekah!
Now I'm really happy, wedded joyfully.

Jeremiah 17:7 Blessed is the man who trusts in Jehovah / And whose trust Jehovah is.
